

To whom it may concern

I hope this email finds you well.

I am writing this from Ireland in the hope in the coming days the bill is passed in Iceland to stop whaling.

Myself and the world watch helplessly as these magnificent creatures are brutally slaughtered.

These whales migrate past the coast of Ireland and people stand in awe watching them, they are heartbreakingly beautiful, please end the slaughter

Thanks

Jill Wilson